This is a role for a senior level urban designer to join an established multidisciplinary team of urban designers, landscape architects, planners and economists, working nationally across a range of projects.

We are proud of our reputation as collaborators, delivering leading and high-quality professional services for our networks of clients. For prospective candidates, we are looking for individuals that share these values and want to be a part of a passionate and high energy team that operates nationally – we have urban designers in our Sydney, Brisbane, and Sunshine Coast offices. The current opportunity is to have a new highly experienced senior level urban designer join one of these locations.

Our work is diverse, and as a multi-disciplinary firm our Urban Designers often play a lead role in coordinating and working as part of project teams from the proposal phase through to delivery.

Some of the type of work you would be involved in would include:

- Structure planning, development layouts, and land subdivision projects for public and private sector clients
- Public realm, open space and recreation strategies
- Urban renewal and master planning projects
- Integration of evidence-based approaches to design and planning

We are looking for an experienced urban designer with the capacity to work across our projects, particularly with skills and desire to:

- Provide leadership and coordination of projects
- Manage client relationships
- Provide support and mentoring to junior staff
- Actively participate in industry engagement and thought leadership

ESSENTIAL EXPERIENCE / ATTRIBUTES:

- Master planning, structure planning and land subdivision experience (ideally min 10+ years, but if you fancy yourself a young gun don't let that stop you applying)

- Strong industry connections and profile
- Significant project management and coordination experience
- Proficient in key design programs, such as CAD, Adobe Creative Suite and Sketchup
- High level written, graphic and verbal communication skills
- The ability to manage time and deliver work over several projects at any one time
- Tertiary qualification in planning, design, or a related discipline
- Australian resident
- COVID vaccination certificate
